Passage (Mock)

Climate change is one of the most pressing challenges of our time. Rising global temperatures, melting ice caps, and increasingly frequent extreme weather events all point to a warming planet. Scientists agree that human activity—especially the burning of fossil fuels—is the main driver of these changes.

However, individuals can make a difference. By reducing energy consumption at home, using public transport, and choosing sustainable products, each person can contribute to slowing down the warming trend. Schools and governments also play a vital role in raising awareness and implementing climate-friendly policies.

The road ahead is challenging, but with collective action and innovative thinking, we can build a more sustainable future for the next generation.
